

Killer Jokes

A sneak peek selection of the best kids' voted jokes

Compiled by Dianne Bates

To be published by Barrel Books in 2009

Q: What's green, round and smells?

A: A frog's bottom.

Q: What's green and smells like gum trees?

A: Koala vomit.

Q: What's green, wobbly and hangs from trees?

A: Giraffe's boogers.

Q: What did one toilet say to the other toilet?

A: You look a little flushed.

Q: What do you find inside a clean nostril?

A: Fingerprints.

Q: How do you hurt your little brother's finger?

A: Punch him on the nose.

Q: What's the difference between snot and broccoli?

A: Kids don't eat broccoli.

Q: What's grosser than gross?

A: Eating cornflakes when your brother can't find his scab collection.

Q: Why did the boy take toilet paper to the birthday party?

A: Because he was a party pooper.

Q: Why did the toilet paper roll down the hill?

A: Because it wanted to get to the bottom.

Q: What's red, white and black, and taps on the window?

A: Santa Claus in the microwave.

Q: What is invisible and smells like a rotten banana?

A: A monkey's fart.

Q: What did the cabin boy see in the toilet bowl?

A: The Captain's log.

Q: How do you make a kleenex dance?

A: Put a little boogie in it.

Q: What has one wheel and flies?

A: A wheelbarrow full of cow manure.

Q: What's worse than a worm in the pear you're eating?

A: Half a worm.

Q: What's red, has wheels and lies on its back?

A: A dead bus.

Q: What's yellow, brown and hairy?

A: Cheese and toast on the carpet.

Q: What is full of holes and yet used often?

A: A golf course.

Q: What would you be if you couldn't lift your arms?

A: A chair.

Q: What is the hardest thing about learning to ride a bike?

A: The pavement.